HOLLAND BULBS ARE BACK!

PRE-WAR QUALITY

Use attached order sheet NOW, to order for Fall 1945 delivery

TULIP LOVERS will be glad to know that Dutch bulbs will again be available this Fall, and furthermore, they will be of the best pre-war quality.

Fortunately the Dutch growers were able to maintain and keep for themselves the best bulbs, while in some manner selling the poorer ones to the Germans.

The Netherlands Government, cooperating with the bulb growers, has promised shipping space to bring the bulbs to this country, and they are expected to arrive in plenty of time.

There has been a revival of interest in home beautification in this country, as you are no doubt aware, and what better way is there to make your property more lovely than by growing the most beautiful flowers in the world — Tulips, Narcissi, Hyacinths, and the Crocuses that almost push the snow out of the way to make your yard look like Spring?

We are sorry that lack of time prevented our getting out an attractive colored bulb catalog, but such things take time, and it was not until some weeks after the Germans were defeated that we knew that the Hollanders would be able to supply bulbs again.

Send in your order NOW, before the limited supplies are sold out. Address it to our address nearest you, as shown on the order sheet. We pay postage or express charges to any point east of the Rocky Mountains.
